Canadian Aid for Fire Services Abroad

Would You Fight Fires Without Protection?

Canadian Aid for Fire Services Abroad

Canadian firefighters would never dream of combating fire without being shielded by the very best and modern fire protection equipment. Stringent standards ensure that our firefighters remain safe while conducting fire operations. Unfortunately, many of our counterparts overseas fight fire in nothing but their street clothes. CAFSA aims to address this deficiency by collecting used, but serviceable firefighting equipment and redistributing it to foreign departments in need.

The same high standards that keep our firefighters safe often result in high rates of equipment turn over. If only a fraction of this otherwise discarded equipment was saved and redistributed, thousands of our comrades overseas could experience the same level of protection we take for granted.

CAFSA is an Alberta based international, non-government aid foundation. We accept donations and equipment from anyone willing to help our comrades overseas. CAFSA is a registered charity and official donation receipts will be issued for monetary contributions. All equipment donors will also be issued a waiver of liability removing all legal responsibility for the equipment donated.
